Excerpt: . . . 11 REPAIRED STATEMENT OF LLEN NGLEMAN ADMINISTRATOR RESEARCH AND P S E E, A, R PECIAL PROGRAMS ADMINISTRATION DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION S P A, U. S. D T Thank you for the opportunity to appear before you on this critical topic of concern for our entire Nation. I want to express my appreciation to the Members of this Committee for their interest and to share with them my sincere sympathy for the families and friends of the victims of the tragedy of September 11th. The possibilities we now face are driven by a deliberate attack that most could not have imagined prior to September 11th. The Research and Special Programs Administration (RSPA) has worked diligently to respond to the events of September 11 and prepare for our new reality concerning public safety and security. The RSPA mission has always been focused on public safety. RSPA administers a comprehensive, national series of programs through the offices of pipeline safety, transportation of hazardous materials and the office of emergency transportation. Our job is to protect people, property and the environment from harm or damage that would result from accidents or events resulting from the transportation of hazardous materials, from damage by oil or natural gas pipelines and respond to emergency transportation issues resulting from natural or manmade events. Our safety programs traditionally focus on the likelihood of accidental events in order to minimize the consequences when incidents occur. Fortunately, RSPA has also proactively addressed security concerns for all areas under our jurisdiction. In less than 30 minutes after the first attack on the World Trade Center, Transportation Secretary Mineta ordered the...
