HAVING thus seen that the Indian Muhammadan and Hindi systems of nomenclature do not differ from each other, except in so far as the former is affected by religious influences, let us now proceed to enquire whence this joint Indian Aryan system springs. There can be no doubt that it has been in force from all time, and is indeed the form that human nomenclature would naturally assume. Even if the Indian Mulgammadans had adhered to Arabic names, and taken what were in existence, nearly all those of pre-Islamite origin would have proved to be directly derived from words in every-day use, in precisely the same way as those of their Hindi: ancestors. Going back, then, to the earliest times, and taking the names of the Vedic and Puranic...
