Excerpt: . MUSIC AND DANCING LICENSES. F any intelligent foreigner found it difficult to understand why London--a town of nearly four millions of inhabitants--is now left without one solitary Casino--he should attend the annual Licensing Sessions of the Middlesex Magistrates at Clerkenwell, and see the very mixed, very numerous, and somewhat unruly body of gentlemen who are appointed to govern half the amusements of the greatest city in the world. Here is a body, over four hundred strong, representing in its working majority every form of fussy respectability, narrow-minded bigotry, hopeless ignorance, wrought-iron prejudice, sour sectarianism, puritanical zeal, and well-meaning obstinacy. Nearly ninety of these Solons from Clapton and Lycurguses from Stoke Newington attended at the Sessions House one Friday, in October, and in their struggle to obtain seats hardly left room for the reporters and the legal gentlemen, to say nothing of witnesses and...

Reviews

Extensive information for book fans. It is written in basic words and never hard to understand. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.
