Since he had come into the Harley Street house Julian had been much happier. His perturbation had gradually evaporated until now scarcely a vestige of it remained. The little doctor s talk, above all the sight of his calm, thoughtful face and the aspect of his calm, satisfied room, gave the coup de gniu to the uneasiness of a spurious and illomened excitement. When the power of wide medical knowledge is joined to the power of goodness and of umbrageous intellectuality a doctor is, among all men, the man to lay the ghosts that human nature is perpetually at the pains to set walking in their shrouds to cause alarm. All Julian s ghosts were laid. He smoked on and grew to feel perfectly natural and comfortable. The dogs echoed and emphasised all the healing power of their small and elderly master. As they lay sleeping, a tangle of large limbs and supine strength, the fire shone over them till their fawn-coloured coats gleamed almost like satin touched with gold. The delightful sanctity of unmeasured confidence, unmeasured satisfaction, sang in their gentle and large-hearted snores, which rose and fell with the regularity of waves on the sea. Now and then one of them slowly stretched a leg or expanded the toes of a foot, as if intent on presenting a larger surface of sensation to the embrace of comfort and of affection. And they, so it seemed to Julian, kept...
